

THE ONLY GLOBAL ASSOCIATION OF YOUNG LAWYERS

18-19 June 2010 | LONDON

The AIJA International Arbitration, Commercial Fraud, Litigation, Labour Law and Corporate Counsel Commissions are delighted to invite you to join us in London for two parallel seminars on 18-19 June 2010 as well as a dynamic social itinerary.

International Arbitration Seminar

The well-known Annual Arbitration Conference is organized in co-operation with ICDR Young & International (International Centre for Dispute Resolution). In a format designed to guarantee a lively debate, an entire day will be dedicated to interactive workshops moderated by experienced practitioners. In addition to these workshops, there will be presentations on some of the hot topics in today's arbitration world. All presentations and workshops will be tailored to the practical needs of arbitration users.

This seminar will be a good occasion to learn from top-level practitioners and academics from all over Europe and exchange and discuss views on international arbitration. The venue will be London, a centre of international arbitration

The seminar is a must for all lawyers and in-house counsel interested and involved in international arbitration and those who wish to be better prepared for future disputes. It will also be a good opportunity for young arbitration practitioners to establish and develop relationships with colleagues from other firms and countries.

The two-day seminar program will cover major aspects of international arbitration including: Ethical Issues in International Arbitration, Challenging Arbitral Awards, Brussels Regulation and other Torpedos, ADR and Settlement in Arbitration, Emergency Arbitration, Is Arbitration Leaving Europe? Arbitration in Emerging Markets and Cultural Aspects in International Arbitration.

Seminar on Internal Corporate Investigations

Many AIJA lawyers may have had experience in recent years of having to deal with an internal corporate investigation. There are a number of complex legal and risk issues to be considered. A corporate investigation may begin if fraud is suspected within an organisation or as a consequence of the initiation of a domestic government or international regulatory investigation. This is a difficult area and it is crucial that the lawyers, at the centre of the maelstrom, ensure they can give the right advice.

The Commercial Fraud, Litigation, Labour Law and Corporate Counsel Commissions will organize a top-flight seminar that will guide delegates through the myriad of challenging issues facing lawyers dealing with an internal corporate investigation. This will include: the organisation and co-ordination of an internal investigation, getting the most out of employees - the do's and don'ts of interviewing employees; the role of auditors and the function of the shadow investigation; the role of non-lawyers (e.g. outside experts such as forensic accountants); privilege and data protection issues; the powers of regulators and public relations strategies.

With a host of international top-notch speakers (including experienced practitioners and academics), the seminar on Internal Corporate Investigations is a rare opportunity to keep in touch with the latest developments in this developing area.

Social Programme

A visit to London would not be complete without the opportunity to enjoy the city's many sights and diverse culture. The Organising Committee will work hard to ensure there is an exciting line up of social events that take in the best that London has to offer.

We look forward to welcoming you in London on 18-19 June 2010.
