

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF YOUNG LAWYERS

United States

13-15 October 2011 | LOS ANGELES

INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND TRANSPORT SYMPOSIUM

As one of the leading global and truly multi cultural cities of the world Los Angeles is the perfect place to hold an AIJA event. It is, thus, with great pleasure that we invite you to join the transport law commission of AIJA in Long Beach for its annual seminar on October 13th - 15th, 2011 which will be a joint event with the Los Angeles County Bar Association and supported by the American Bar Association Section of International Law.

Held at the Marriott Renaissance Hotel in Long Beach, the conference will host a practical seminar on international trade and transport issues. We will address pitfalls to be avoided in drafting contracts including hot issues relating to air craft and vessel finance and will discuss amongst others problems with customs, port state control, homeland security and embargos and provide solutions in practice. We will touch upon different measures to enforce your rights in Europe, the United States and Asia ensuring input from high-profile speakers across the world.

We are proud also to bring you a great social program. So, safe the date and get ready – Southern California is waiting for you!

The organising committee

Marco Remiorz

Dabelstein & Passehl, Hamburg/Germany

Constance Kim

Cannon Wood Scheidemantle LLP, Pasadena/United States

Malcom S. McNeil

Fox Rothschild LLP, Los Angeles/United States

With the support of

